Kenosha County is undergoing rapid changes. What will the County look like in 2035? What should it look like? To help guide decisions on land use, infrastructure development and natural resource preservation, Kenosha County is developing a comprehensive plan. You can join in the planning process and contribute to the future of Kenosha County!

A complete draft of "A Multi-Jurisdictional Comprehensive Plan for Kenosha County: 2035" is now available for review.

Upcoming Planning Dates

In the upcoming months, Kenosha County and local governments participating in the multi-jurisdictional planning process will be conducting open houses and public hearings to provide residents the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the plan and to provide comments on their plan.
